DEATH CLAIMS ROBERT QUIRK

Former Citizen and Mayor Died of Injuries Received in Chicago Rail Accident.

Friends and relatives here were greatly depressed Monday night [22 Sep 1913] when the news reached Cascade that Robert Quirk, of Waterloo, former well-known citizen and ex-mayor of this city, was badly if not fatally injured by falling beneath the wheels of a Chicago Great Western cattle train at 40th street and Laurel avenue in Chicago.

Last night [24 Sep 1913] the sad news reached Cascade that Mr. Quirk succumbed to the injuries and passed away during Wednesday [24 Sep 1913] at 12:30 p.m. From the meagre information that has reached here it is gleaned that Mr. Quirk's left leg was severed midway between the ankle and knee and that he was injured internally. In a letter to S. T. Kean of this city J. J. Farrelly the well known commission man, assisted in having the injured man removed to the Engelwood hospital. Amputation of the leg higher up was found necessary.

Mrs. Quirk of Waterloo and son William hurried to the bedside of the injured husband and father. On Tuesday [23 Sep 1913] daughters of Mr. Quirk informed their cousin Henry Seery that good reports of their father's condition were received from Chicago and there was a feeling that Mr. Quirk would recover from the shock but unfortunately the improvement was only temporary. The accident was too severe in nature for Mr. Quirk's age.

Mr. Quirk came to Cascade from Delaware county about twenty-five years ago [abt 1888] and engaged in stock buying, first alone, but later formed a co-partnership under the name of Kean Bros. & Quirk, buyers who were known far and wide among stock raisers and feeders. During his residence he was numbered among the strong and valuable citizens. He served on the city council, and in March, 1899, was elected mayor of Cascade. A year or so later [abt 1900] he removed his family to Dubuque and continued his stock buying business, and built a handsome residence on Alta Vista Street. Five or six years ago [1907/1908] he sold his residence at Dubuque and removed to Waterloo, where he still continued live stock buying and which line he followed up to the time the fatal accident occurred.

Mr. Quirk was married 37 years ago [26 Jan 1876] when still a resident of Delaware county, to Miss Mary Seery, daughter of the late John Seery of Washington township, Jones county, who with three children survive, him: Miss Etta, William and Marcella. He is also survived by his brother Rev. Father Quirk, of Clinton, and three sisters.

Mr. Quirk was a graduate of the Monticello [Jones County] high school, and in his younger days taught in the public schools of Delaware and Jones counties. He was a man of forcible character, genial spirit, and ruggedly honest. His death, and especially the untimely manner of it, is sincerely and deeply mourned here in his old home and wherever he was known.

The funeral will be held at St. Patrick's church in Dubuque tomorrow (Friday) morning [26 Sep 1913], and burial in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Robert married ¹² Mary T. Seery "Gaga" ^{1,13,14} on 26 Jan 1876 in Cascade, Dubuque County, Iowa. Gaga was born ^{4,5,15,16} May 1850 in Louisiana. She died ¹⁷ 1940 and was buried ^{1,17} 1940 in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Key West, Dubuque County, Iowa.

There was a sign where he crossed that said 'Don't cross if the water is above the white line', and when they asked him why he went ahead and crossed, he said 'I didn't see any white line', which of course was actually buried under the water.
