

The Ashton school board have been having quite a time over the hiring of a principal for their schools for the ensuing year. Being divided between Prof. Roth and Prof. Elliott, of Sanborn. Prof. Elliott offering to accept the position at $75 per month and Roth refusing to take it for less than $80 per month, which the board would not pay. They finally hired Mr. Roth, the school district paying him $700 and one of the members paying him the balance, twenty dollars, out of his own pocket.

G. W. Roth, son of J. A. Roth, principal of the Ashton school, expects to attend the law school at Ann Arbor, Mich., at the expiration of his school year. He is one of the bright young men of Lyon county, and if he doesn't make his mark in the near future we miss our guess.
