ETHEL VIOLA LANPHERE

Ethel Viola Lanphere, the daughter of Ole C. and Gena (Christensen) Olson, was born on August 19, 1898, in Cuppy's Grove, in Center Township, Shelby County, Iowa. She lived at her parents' home until she was a young adult. She attended country school and Cuppy's Grove Church. Ethel accepted Christ at an early age, and subsequently became an active church member.

Ethel married Enoch Lanphere in 1927, and they moved to Harlan in the early 1930's. Ethel became a charter member of Bethel Baptist Church in Harlan, and was actively involved there. She did handwork out of her home for many years, was an avid gardener, and loved her red roses nearly as much as she loved her family and friends. She also took care of her invalid mother for six years.

Enoch died on July 3, 1978. In spite of failing health, Ethel stayed in their home in Harlan, caring for her flowers, birds, and red geraniums, until June, 1992. She then entered the Salem Lutheran Home in Elk Horn, Iowa. She died there on Thursday, September 28, 1995, at the age of 97 years, 1 month, and 9 days.

Preceding Ethel in death were her parents; her husband, Enoch; and two brothers, Lenan and Roy. Survivors include one daughter, Katheryn Miller of La Mesa, California; one brother, Guy Olson of Waco, Texas; two sisters, Grace Jensen of Tyler, Minnesota, and Mildred Kellogg of Oelwein, Iowa; one grandson, Craig Miller; and four great-grandchildren.
